

PRO BONO SEMINARS

October 23, 2018

Crowne Plaza Reading Hotel, 1741 Papermill Road, Reading, PA 19610

On October 23, 2018 the Berks County Bar Association is recognizing those individuals who serve on the Berks Pro Bono Team by either volunteering at MidPenn Legal Services, Family Detention Center, Berks Encore, to make presentations at Safe Berks, serving as a Conciliator in the Mortgage Foreclosure Diversion Project or paying the "opt-out" fee.

The celebration includes two seminars that are free to Pro Bono Team members. Others who are non-team members may attend at a nominal fee. Those seminars are:

1:30 SEMINAR: The Top 10 Things a Pro Bono Lawyer (and the Judge He or She Appears Before) Should Know (1 ethics credit)

The presentation will provide an exploration of ten items that every lawyer and judge should run through when dealing with a pro bono client from JUST listening to controlling the client's expectations. Following this presentation, the attendee will be ready for everything, from the pro bono client who wins the lottery to the pro bono client who names their first born after you!

David K. Trevaskis, Esquire, Pro Bono Coordinator for Legal Services for the Pennsylvania Bar Association

2:45 SEMINAR: Eviction Procedure Potpourri: Public Housing, Subsidized Housing, Private Housing and Mobile Home (1.5 hours substantive credit)

This seminar will focus on discussing the different types of housing available to renters. In doing so, an explanation will be provided as to the different laws and regulations which apply to each particular form of housing, highlighting the differences in the eviction procedures required for each respective housing type.

Matthew S. Rich, Esquire, MidPenn Legal Services, Harrisburg office
